Additional Fees

Incidentals and Recurrent Charges

In accordance with the normal practice at all tertiary education institutions, students are responsible for paying for their own items such as stationery, storage media (including DVDs, CDs and USBs), text books, art supplies, uniforms, library and general excursion fees, and other items which are for the personal use of individual students and are to be retained by the student. Macleay College has a policy of making such additional charges at cost and of negotiating special student discount rates with some suppliers.

Course Credit

Students can apply for course credit if they have suitable prior learning or experience. Where an application for course credit for a unit or subject is successful, this will result in the student being exempt from attending and completing that particular unit or subject in order to qualify for the qualification. Please note that gaining course credit does not reduce course fees.

Refund Policy

If a student discontinues a course or is suspended or dismissed because of unsatisfactory conduct or attitude, or for failure to follow the rules and regulations, or for excessive absenteeism, then no refund will be given on the current trimester's fee. No refund on a trimester's fee can be made once the census date of that trimester has passed. Trimester dates are specified above.
